

CollegeConsulting.com's team of passionate educators and former college admissions officers can help your child land a spot at their dream university. We help young scholars determine the best schools for them, organize their high school lives for maximum college success, and coach them through the grueling college admissions process, preparing them for a future of academic and professional prosperity.

Continuous support and guidance as your child prepares for college:

- Comprehensive college consulting support starting as early as 8th grade or as late as 12th grade for both domestic and international students
- Support in selecting the best high school, high school classes, and summer activities
- Continual monitoring of academic performance, arranging tutoring services if necessary
- Guidance in college selection and test prep facilitation
- Help with college applications, including securing recommendation letters and editing essays

Preparing your child for college success in five simple steps:

1. We assess your child's strengths, interests, aspirations, and academic circumstances to determine the best path forward.
2. We work with your student to select high school classes, shortlist universities, edit college essays, and provide whatever else your student needs.
3. We communicate with you, helping you support your student from home.
4. We meet regularly with your student over one to five years, depending on how early you sign up your child.
5. We help your student approach the college application process and their subsequent college life feeling confident and well-prepared.
